Biographical / Historical

The History Institute was organized by the University of Maine's Department of History and financed by a grant from the U.S. Office of Education under provisions of Title XI of the National Defense Education Act as amended in 1964. The Institute was held at the University of Maine during the summer months of 1966, 1968, and 1969. A mix of faculty taught at the summer institute including from the University of Maine's Department of History. The Institute was for secondary school history teachers who received credit for attendance. Objectives of the Institute included providing the teachers with a conceptual framework and profile of new ideas in the craft. The Institute also provided an opportunity for the teachers to be exposed to the latest in teaching materials which they could then introduce to their classes. Attendees came from across the nation, but predominately from Maine.

The director of the institute was Dr. Ronald F. Banks, assistant professor of history and assistant dean in the College of Arts and Sciences. Banks would later be appointed assistant to University of Maine President Winthrop C. Libby (1968-1973).

Scope and Contents

The records contain textual information created by the University of Maine Department of History and U.S. Office of Education. The record group contains various information regarding funding support the Institute received from the U.S. Office of Education, including: proposals, forms, supporting material, and correspondence and memorandums from the Office. Also included are administrative records regarding the organization and promotion of the Institute, including: plans, schedules, bibliographies, travel claims, orders for teaching material, reservations, staff lists, lists of participants and mailing lists, press releases, and brochures. Also, included are details of various trips and examples of teaching content.

Accruals

Accruals from the Institute are not anticipated because the program has been discontinued.

Conditions Governing Access

Kept at Fogler Library's offsite storage facility. One week's notice required for retrieval. Generally only records older than 30 years are accessible. Personal identifiable and sensitive information will be redacted before release.

Conditions Governing Use

Information on literary rights available in the Raymond H. Fogler Library Special Collections Department.

Appraisal

The processing archivist appraised the records and destroyed duplicate copies of brochures, reports, and forms. Also, material not considered appropriate for permanent retention in Fogler Library's Special Collections were destroyed, including blank forms, correspondence and forms from teachers who ended up not attending the Institute, and confidential evaluations of applicants to the Institute.

Processing Information

Processed by Matthew Revitt, May 2017, Raymond H. Fogler Library Special Collections Department. Processing involved a collection survey and intellectual arrangement into series and the creation of this finding aid. Material was rehoused into appropriate archival folders and the boxes and folders numbered and titled added using information from ArchivesSpace.
